

- 1. V- Lots of choices including- tis, anybody'd, theseyer, afore.
- 2. I- The author used those 'funny' words for Mrs Hoggett to represent her country accent. As you read the words you automatically speak in the accent of a farmer's wife. Blends two words together e.g.
 anybody'd = anybody would.
- 3. P- Mr Hoggett was told that he had won the pig as he has guessed the weight most accurately.
- 4. R- A few choices here- 'Struggled madly' or 'yelled blue murder' or 'squealing' or 'screaming'.
